Write a Review

Take a moment to help others seeking treatment by sharing your experience and opinion of Right Step online. For this example, we're using the Houston Central location. If you would like to write a review about one of The Right Steps other 21 locations, just replace the word Houston for the location that you are looking for (i.e. Northline). If at any time you see the words "Write a Review", click on that link and you will be directed straight to the review section. You can then ignore the remaining steps.

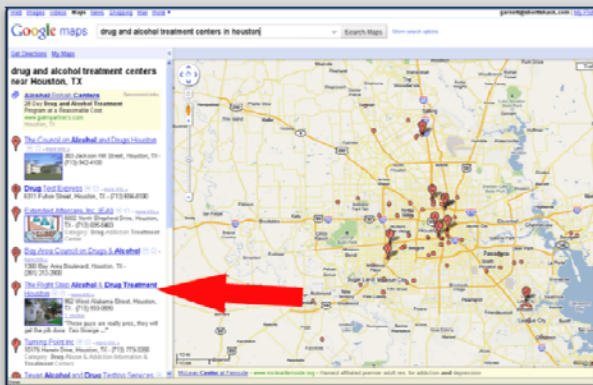

1 Go to google.com by typing www.google.com in the address bar. When Google comes up type "drug and alcohol treatment centers in Houston" in the search field.

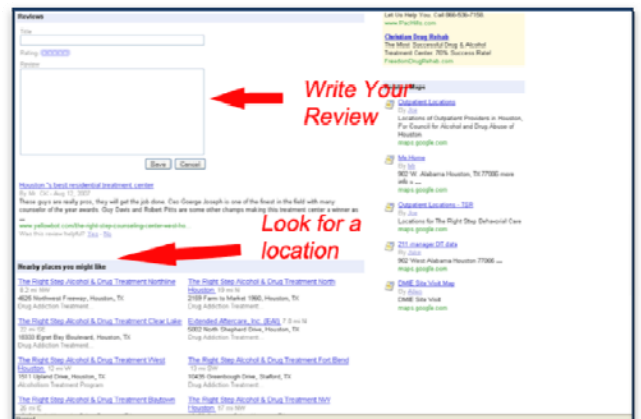

2 Once you hit "enter" (or click "Google search") your screen should look like the one at the right. To the right of the map look for The Right Step website. If you see The Right Step, click on the link. If you do not see the web site you will need to click "more results near Houston TX" at the bottom right side of the map.

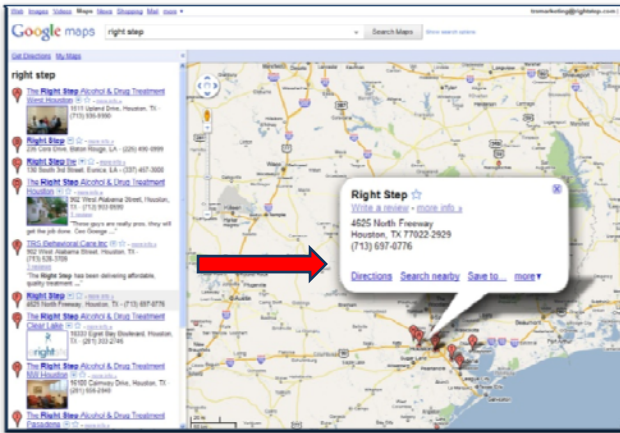

3 You will then see a page like the one below. Click on The Right Step link to the left of the screen.

4 You will then see a pop up in the middle of the map giving the location of The Right Step Houston. Underneath the picture you will see the word "more". Click "more", you will then see a drop down menu. In the drop down menu click "Write a review".

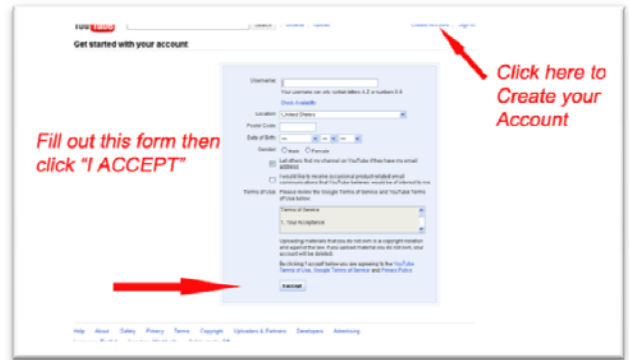

5 In the upper left corner you will see the area you can write a review. If you are looking for a different Right Step location. Look beneath the reviews for "Nearby places you might like" and click on the location you are looking for. You will then be able to write a review for that location.

Don't Have a Google Account? Here's How to Create One

Before opening a Google account there are a few things to keep in mind:

- You cannot have a YouTube account without a Google account. If you have a Google account you can simply add YouTube to the account. If you do not have a Google account, you may simply register with YouTube and a Google account will be created for you automatically. The information that you enter for your YouTube account will be the same information for your Google account.
- Creating a Google or YouTube account does not give you a Gmail account. If you would like a Gmail account you will need to do this separately once you have created your Google account.
- During the sign in process, when Google asks for your email address they are referring to any email address you currently have access to. You can change this email address anytime you like once you are signed up. (i.e. ex@yahoo.com, ex@ex.com , or example@gmail.com)

If you have a Google account, skip to "Write a Review"

1. Type www.google.com in the address bar (Figure 1.1)
2. Verify that you are on the classic Google page (Figure 1.1) and not the iGoogle page. The classic Google page will simply say "Google" while the iGoogle page will say "iGoogle". If you are on the iGoogle page, you can switch to the classic page by clicking on "Classic Home" on the upper right hand corner of the screen. You can create an account from either the classic Google page or the iGoogle page, but the screens will be a little different if you create the account through iGoogle.
3. Click on the "Sign in" link on the upper right hand corner of the page.
4. On the left and right side of the page, there is a link labeled "create account now." Figure 1.2 Click on this link.
5. If this link does not appear you will need to type www.google.com/accounts/NewAccount in the address bar.
6. Fill in your email address, password, location, and the word verification. Your password must be at least eight letters. The best passwords use both letters and numbers. Click on "I accept. Create my account" when you are done.
7. Google will send an email to the address you provided to verify your account. It may take a few minutes to receive the email. When you receive it, simply click on the link provided and your Google account will be verified.

Enjoy your new Google account!
